Special Council Meeting to be Held in Mattilee

To Legislate on the Rat and Bug Troubles.

Yang Wum, Aug. 12, 1900. The Mattilee council in its meeting will pass a few important city laws which is badly needed and has put off from time to time for the want of sand. Liking in sum of our members crawls all the inhabitants thru out the Philippines are having trouble over one another rats and bugs. There will be a law passed compelling all ratowners to keep them at home and see that they don't disturb their neighbors. People raising rats should have rat pens and not let them run at large, they are liable to lose them at any time, I have warned the insurgents time and again about being so careless with their stock and fowls. I was walking thru my flower garden this morning and I noticed five or six stray honey bees in my jimson blooms. I haven't over fifteen sparrows of my own and half the time they are not at home. I had a bright rat bug prospect this spring, but did not plant enough rats to do them all summer, and they have all strayed away from home. I have not missed any of my flies so far. I count them every morning. Just before I get out of bed and find I have my usual number. Sum times Mr. Moor calls at the coonbox, and when he leaves a few of them follow him off, tho I am not a pickaninny kind of a fellow and make no kick. I got sum fleecy powders the other day. Its bin so hot in the Philippines the insurgents don't take their buga rides until ten and eleven o'clock at night. Politicians all having to watching for the tide wave, not much bushwhacking expected on the beach while the weather keeps so hot, admiral Bob White's provision ship will continue to visit the insurgents as long as they can raise a nickel. He will soon begin fluding the island with mellons at 5c a piece. his ship is built on a gold standard platform and is ready and willing to surve the Boxers with the best of easeables as long as they can raise the nickle. no use in going hon-gra as long as the ship is able to sail. Mr. Moor's grapes is ripning fast now I will visit him regular during the grape season. Any body wanting a house built and havent the money see the Summer coon and he will build it and let you have the money to pay for it. no excuse for living out doors all winter and summer. Sum people is always kicking about hard times. I take things easy, and after night it caust mee a dollar a week jest for my bord. Jest think of it. What would become of mee if I had a famley for the Lord's sake? Well excuse mee I won't say any more now.

"Heroes of Peace."

In speaking of this book the Buffalo Courier, (N. Y.) of July 22 says: "William Victor Holley has written a book called 'Heroes of Peace,' which the title page announces is a story of the twentieth century revolution. This we discover to mean a social revolution of the masses for escape from the thrall of the money power as exercised through the agency of the industrial trusts and other combinations. Ordinarily the tale would be interesting. It is additionally so at this time when so much thought is concentrated upon the subject which has been made the base of its construction."

The Courier then quotes several pages from the book and ends by saying that the story will be widely discussed and have a large circulation during the present campaign. "Heroes of Peace" is from the press of the Commercial Publishing Co., 420 Market St., St. Louis, or can be had through ADVOCATE in cloth at $1.00, paper cover 50c. It may be found also at news dealers.
